Nala has been looking for her forever home for a long time. She needs a very special home that will continue the work we have done with her to date. She is definitely a project dog that can be exhausting at times but she is sweet and loving. Her ideal home is one that will work with her to become her better self. We welcome you to contact us (info@ngrr.org) for more specific information. We will put you in touch with someone who knows her the best. Does your home have the patience, understanding, and willingness to help Nala, a dog that desperately needs patience and understanding?
