

In memory of Betty Barkus (nee Rovetta) January 31, 2002 - July 7, 2010

Loving family member of Kris Williams, Trigger, and Simba

Betty Barkus (nee Rovetta) went to her heaven on July 7, 2010

Her heaven consists of endless, fenceless green fields, and slow-moving squirrels. She's got all her legs on and is the happy, goofy, bossy, smarty-boots girl I have known and loved for three years and five months.

Betty was rescued from a Nevada shelter. She came home 20 pounds underweight and covered with mats. Her Irish exuberance and joie de vivre made her an instant member of the family.

Betty survived 7-plus months after her osteosarcoma diagnosis. She did not let her front-leg amputation slow her down.

We will all miss her forever.

Kris and Golden boys Trigger and Simba

"We long for an affection altogether ignorant of our faults. Heaven has accorded this to us in the uncritical canine attachment." — George Eliot